

EDITORIAL

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

DR. RAJLAKSHMI BANERJEE

It gives me immense pleasure to bring forth the first issue of the journal of IPS, Nagpur branch . As it is famously said 'Publish or Perish' , this journal is an attempt to inculcate scientific writing amongst the postgraduate students.

It is an endeavour to avail them with a platform to hone their writing skills, and to present the hard work they put in for prosthetic rehabilitation in various patients.

This journal will showcase a myriad of original research, review articles and case reports. We would like to include and encompass multiple dimensions of prosthetic rehabilitation in our future issues and publications and in the process will always strive to better ourselves in all aspects.

Jai Hind...!
